Manse Water Troubles

The cypress into the well did go, but out they came without a flow.
 The pump did roar and charge and fret but got no water to the pipe to wet.
 It made one long and faceless stroke and as the effort the main valve broke.
 The gasoline engine gave a noble move and snatched its piston in a groove.
 The hard work man was summoned to repair the one which shattered from its trip in air.

The cypress again were sent below and by renewed pluck secured a flow.
 They really did not deserve much pay for they left in the well all the same day.
 The prospector who drinks this water and must not wear it there comes a death.
 He now will trade that accumulate for a miracle that must be complete.
 "A LUCKY MAN" (17-24).

Sheriff W. T. Snoddy, levied

There will be a teachers meeting at Dillwyn today and it is likely that delegates will be elected to attend the school conference which meets in Richmond Thanksgiving week.

Weather conditions have changed and we had a copious rain Sunday and now the newly sown grass and grain crops will soon make a pleasant sign by covering the fields in green.

Don't forget the date of the election, November 8th.

Dr. Tucker is out in a card withdrawing from the contest giving his reasons therefor, and pledging his vote for Mr.
 John B. Boatwright.

The 4th class postmasters are getting uneasy lest the Republicans may put in men of their party.

Youth's Companion Folks

The folks you meet in Youth's Companion stories are no different from those of your home-own, but you meet them in unusual situations, crowded with incident and adventure, in which courage, resourcefulness and integrity are put to the severest tests. The Companions' purpose is to picture the permanent satisfaction that springs from following the path of duty rather than the fleeting, portable distractions of those who always choose the easiest way. And the Companion has proved again and again that stories based upon this principle are a no way lacking in strength and sustained interest.

The 52 issues of 1922 will be provided with serial stories, short stories, editorials, poetry, facts and fun. Subscribe now
